

FEARS FOR MARCH WOULD FOLLOW BORDER FIGHT

Troops Favoring Huerta Are Marching Out of Agua Prieta Before Victorious Rebels Reach Town.

SALAZAR DECLARES
FOR EMILIO GOMEZ

Carranza, Rebel Governor of Coahuila, Takes Possession Railway at Monclova, With Army of 3000 Soldiers.

MEXICO CITY, March 10.—A delegation from the American colony in the capital is preparing to proceed to Washington to request President Wilson to retain Henry Lane Wilson as ambassador to Mexico.

DOUGLAS, Ariz., March 10.—Five hundred federal soldiers tonight are preparing to evacuate Agua Prieta and leave it in the possession of the 800 or more con-stitutionalists about the town. General Ojeda, commander of the Huerta garrison, stated late today that fear of international complications in event of a battle between his and the rebel forces situated so closely to Douglas has brought about his determination to move westward along the Arizona border with his entire command.

Refugee federal troops from Nacozari and El Tigre, two border towns captured yesterday by the state troops, reached Agua Prieta today and joined Ojeda's command. One hundred and seventy-five federal soldiers were driven from Naco after a two days' fight, beginning Sunday morning.

El Tigre, a mining camp forty miles southeast of here, was attacked last night by a force of 100 rebels, and the garrison there of 160 men surrendered.
One hundred federal soldiers eluded the constitutionalists with their arms and ammunition. A band of pursuing rebels overtook them, and after a sharp skirmish succeeded in disarming them.

Word was received here today that the conquerors of Naco and El Tigre were marching upon Agua Prieta and Nogales, Sonora.

General Ojeda was given to understand that his opposing force in the morning would number more than 1000 well armed troops, equipped with machine guns. Ojeda decided to give up Agua Prieta and march to the defense of Nogales and Naco, where small federal garrisons now are stationed.

SALAZAR TO FIGHT
FOR EMILIO GOMEZ

EL PASO, Tex., March 10.—General Jose Inez Salazar, Orozco's rival commander of the former anti-Madero rebels of Chihuahua, today announced himself against Provisional President Huerta in a communication to the press. He declares not only that he will never assist Huerta in putting down the Sonora uprising, but that he will actively assist the Mexican city administration, but the provisional claims of Emilio Vasquez Gomez, who is with Salazar at Palomas, on the New Mexico border.

"I declare definitely and once forever that as supreme head of the revolutionary forces of the north, I am for upholding the land plan of San Luis Potosi," declared the rebel general. "I and the forces under my command will devote our humble services, not in behalf of the government of General Huerta, but to the benefit of the revolutionary government."

Salazar is said to have even a stronger following than Orozco, and especially among the Mexican Socialists. He had been in the forefront of the movement in Chihuahua against Madero until the reappearance in the field of Orozco after his flight.

As a representative of Salazar and Vasquez Gomez, Colonel David de la Plante is on his way to Mexico City to confer with General Huerta. He believed he knows nothing of Salazar's stand against the provisional national government.

MADERO FAMILY TO
REMAIN PASSIVE

NEW YORK, March 10.—Ernesto Madero, former minister of finance in the Mexican cabinet, who arrived here last week, issued a statement today on behalf of himself and the members of the Madero family. Mr. Madero declared that it was the intention of the Madero family to refrain from participation in the politics of Mexico. He said it was the hope of all the Maderos that peace would come to the southern republic.

"Before leaving Mexico City, we assured the officials of the present provisional government that it was not our purpose to take any part whatever in Mexican politics," the statement said.
"We told them that we were to remain there until political conditions in Mexico should become settled. There will be no change in this policy."
"It is not true, as has been reported, that any member of the Madero family contemplates organizing any movement against the present government of Mexico or taking any part whatever in such a movement. It is the sincerest desire of myself and of every member of the Madero family that peace prevail throughout Mexico. We hope, also, that all good people in Mexico will co-operate towards that end."

War Department Plan.
WASHINGTON, March 10.—Giving
close attention to the fresh disturbances in the western states of Mexico, near the

March April May—Take HOOVER'S Sarsaparilla

Spring Medicine and blood purifier.

WILL CONFINE THE SPECIAL TO TARIFF

(Continued from Page One.)

In succession to Henry Lane Wilson, Mr. McMillan is in the city. It is said he declined a European tour.
Louis D. Brandeis of Boston, who was frequently mentioned for a post in the Wilson cabinet, had a long conference with the president at the White house tonight. It was the first time they had met since the days preceding the election in November, when Mr. Wilson was campaigning in Massachusetts.

Mr. Brandeis declined to discuss his views on the tariff. He was, however, in an official connection with the administration, but will be consulted frequently when the tariff reform is discussed. It is known that the president entertains a high regard for his views on the question of strengthening the Sherman anti-trust law, the regulation of competition and the curbing of monopoli-stic practices. Mr. Brandeis was at the White house from 8 o'clock until just before 9, and left at midnight for Boston.
President Wilson took a button at the White house at 3 o'clock tonight that was given to him by the president, accompanied by Mrs. Wilson and the Misses Wilson, attended a theater.

A Cold, La Grippe, Then Pneumonia. is too often the fatal sequence. La Grippe coughs hang on, weaken the system, and lower the vital resistance.
R. G. Collins, Postmaster, Barnegat, N. J., says: "I was troubled with a severe La Grippe cough which completely exhausted me. Foley's Honey and Tar Compound soon stopped the coughing spells entirely. It can't be best." Schramm-Johnson, Drugs, (5) Good Stores. (Advertisement.)

International line, Secretary of War Garrison is awaiting advice from Brigadier General Bliss before making any change in the disposition of the American military forces in that quarter.
Realizing that close proximity of American and Mexican troops conducting campaigns and quarrels that might have serious results, the secretary has instructed General Bliss to investigate the situation along the border with special reference to the feasibility of a short distance from the line, in that case withdrawing the disposition of the border patrol and with due regard to the execution of the neutrality laws.

REBELS EXECUTE THEIR PRISONERS

LAREDO, Tex., March 10.—Of a force of about thirty federal cavalrymen who attacked a band of 200 Carranzistas on the outskirts of Laredo, seventy miles south of the border, today, they were killed, ten were wounded and four taken prisoners and executed, according to a telegram received tonight by United States Consul General Sweeney. It was the third federal defeat at Laredo in as many days. Consul General Sweeney's information did not have information as to the location of the rebels.

It is reported that several hundred men of General Truicy Aubert's command being rushed from Monterrey reinforce the federal position at Laredo. They arrived late tonight and that the battle will be renewed at daylight tomorrow.
The rebels in unknown numbers are inrenched in the ravines about Laredo.
Colonel Guadalupe, commanding the rebel troops, has announced that all prisoners will be executed. He has also announced that he has killed about thirty federal soldiers in battle. Those taken prisoners were executed.

Large forces of men were put to work today repairing the National railway between Nuevo Laredo and Mexico City.

Amnesty Bill Passed.
MEXICO CITY, March 10.—The amnesty bill was passed tonight in the chamber of deputies and was ordered to the senate after the adoption of an amendment excluding from its terms all rebels active after February 23.

Two deputies, Senors Moleno and Lozano, declared that the Sonora constitution was the basis of the bill. The amnesty, said the rebels, will devoted our humble services, not in behalf of the government of General Huerta,
but to the benefit of the revolutionary
government."

Salazar is said to have even a stronger
following than Orozco, and especially
among the Mexican Socialists. He had
been in the forefront of the movement
in Chihuahua against Madero until the
reappearance in the field of Orozco after
his flight.

As a representative of Salazar and
Vasquez Gomez, Colonel David de la
Plante is on his way to Mexico City to
confer with General Huerta. He be-
lieved he knows nothing of Salazar's
stand against the provisional national government.

MADERO FAMILY TO
REMAIN PASSIVE

NEW YORK, March 10.—Ernesto Ma-
dero, former minister of finance in the Mexican cabinet, who arrived here last
week, issued a statement today on be-
half of himself and the members of the
Madero family. Mr. Madero declared
that it was the intention of the Madero
family to refrain from participation in
the politics of Mexico. He said it was
the hope of all the Maderos that peace
would come to the southern republic.

"Before leaving Mexico City, we assured the officials of the present provisional government that it was not our
purpose to take any part whatever in Mexican politics," the statement said.
"We told them that we were to re-
main there until political conditions in Mexico should become settled. There
will be no change in this policy."
"It is not true, as has been reported,
that any member of the Madero family
contemplates organizing any movement
against the present government of Mexico or taking any part whatever in such
a movement. It is the sincerest desire
of myself and of every member of the
Madero family that peace prevail
throughout Mexico. We hope, also, that
all good people in Mexico will co-operate towards that end."

War Department Plan.
WASHINGTON, March 10.—Giving
close attention to the fresh disturbances
in the western states of Mexico, near the

RELAYING MATTERS
Wait for Fall of Adrianople and Scutari Before Replying to Powers.

CLIMAX CLOSE AT HAND
Writer Declares That the Servians and Montenegrins Plan Massacre.

LONDON, March 10.—Diplomacy with reference to the Balkan situation again is at a standstill, and there is an almost complete absence of military news.

According to a Sofia dispatch Bulgaria is waiting for Serbia's reply, and the reply of the allies to the powers respecting mediation will not be delivered until Wednesday.

The belief is current in European capitals that the allies purposely are delaying matters in expectation of the speedy fall of Adrianople and Scutari, which would place them in a more favorable position for the proposed negotiations.

A strong military censorship again has been placed on the Constantinople newspapers, which are forbidden to publish changes in the army or any rumors concerning the position of the ministry.

An Athens dispatch to the Daily Telegraph expresses the belief that the fall of Scutari is imminent, and that the allies will avoid peace negotiations until that time. A special dispatch from Cetinje reports another unsuccessful sortie by the Turks in an attempt to raise the siege of Scutari.

MASSACRE OF THE
TURKS PREDICTED

LONDON, March 10.—The massacre of the entire population of the Turkish fortress of Scutari is probable when that city falls, according to a traveler who writes to the Manchester Guardian. The Turks are said to be planning to slaughter the entire population of the city, saying that the writer has had every opportunity to know the temper of the Montenegrin and Serbian soldiers. It appears that Sir Edward Grey, the British foreign secretary, and to the European powers to take steps to avert such a massacre.

The writer says that the Serbian officers at the port of Durazzo boasted to him that they had exterminated the Moslem Albanian tribe of Lyuma. He continues:
"Later a Montenegrin official assured me very earnestly: 'We have completely exterminated the Ragusa tribes. When we have overpowered them we made them all pass under the sword. I assure you that not one of the tribe remains.' The Montenegrins are said to be planning to massacre the entire population of the city."

BULGARS BATTLE WITH THE GREEKS

LONDON, March 11.—A Saloniki dispatch to the Times dated March 8, gives details of a serious fight, with heavy casualties, between the Bulgarians and Greeks at Saloniki. The Bulgarians were defeated, and the Greeks are said to have captured the town after a skirmish with the Bulgarians. The Bulgarians were said to have suffered heavy losses, and the Greeks to have captured a large quantity of arms and ammunition.

A strong Bulgarian force was then sent with guns and without guns. The fire continued until Saturday, both sides suffering heavy losses and the battle was not ended when the messenger left.

Best for Skin Disease.
Nearly every skin disease yields quickly and permanently to Bucklen's Arnica Salve, and nothing is better for burns or bruises. Soothe and heal.
John Deye, of Gladwin, Mich., says, after suffering twelve years with skin ailment and spending $400 in doctors' bills, Bucklen's Arnica Salve cured him. It will help you. Only 25c. Recommended by Schramm-Johnson, Drugs,
The Never-Substitutors, (5) Good
Stores. (Advertisement.)

"WHITE RIBBON" IDEA IS CAUSING COMMENT

LONDON, March 11.—President Wilson's testotal policy at the White house has aroused the resentment of the London Standard, which editorially warns the president against gaining the fatal reputation of a crank.

Other papers refrain from comment, but the Daily Mail has taken occasion to assert that the president is a crank, and on this point remarks that President Wilson's ideas would not suit the majority of the British and Irish members.

The Cause of Rheumatism.
Stomach trouble, lazy liver and deranged kidneys are the cause of rheumatism. Get your stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels in healthy condition by taking Electric Bitters, and you will not be troubled with the pains of rheumatism. Charles B. Allen, a school principal, of Sylvania, Ga., who suffered indescribable torture from rheumatism, liver and stomach trouble and diseased kidneys, writes: "All remedies failed until I used Electric Bitters, but four bottles of this wonderful remedy cured me completely." Maybe your rheumatic pains come from stomach, liver and kidney troubles.
Electric Bitters will give you prompt relief. 50c and $1.00. Recommended by Schramm-Johnson, Drugs,
The Never-Substitutors, (5) Good
Stores. (Advertisement.)

Naval Bill Debated.
OTTAWA, Ont., March 10.—The house of commons met tonight at 7 o'clock for debate on the Naval Bill. The debate was opened by the minister of marine and fisheries, Mr. Fisher, who stated that the bill was introduced for the purpose of providing for the construction of a new battleship, and for the purchase of a new submarine.

PRESIDENT MEETS DIPLOMATIC CORPS
Brilliant Scene in East Room of the White House During the Ceremony.

WASHINGTON, March 10.—While President Wilson already has dispensed with some of the formalities which hitherto have been observed by occupants of the White house, he demonstrated tonight that he still observes the letter of the international amenities of his office.
Probably the most formal ceremony in which Mr. Wilson ever has participated
was the presentation to the president of the diplomatic corps accredited to Washington by the civilized nations of the globe. In a semi-
circle of brilliant colors, their uniforms
glided proudly with the insignia of their
rank, 146 foreign representatives stood
in impressive silence while the new president, seated in the East room, and the international amenities of his office.
Probably the most formal ceremony in
which Mr. Wilson ever has participated
was the presentation to the president
of the diplomatic corps accredited to Washington
by the civilized nations of the globe. In a semi-
circle of brilliant colors, their uniforms
glided proudly with the insignia of their
rank, 146 foreign representatives stood
in impressive silence while the new
president, seated in the East room, and
the international amenities of his office.

Probably the most formal ceremony in
which Mr. Wilson ever has participated
was the presentation to the president
of the diplomatic corps accredited to Washington
by the civilized nations of the globe. In a semi-
circle of brilliant colors, their uniforms
glided proudly with the insignia of their
rank, 146 foreign representatives stood
in impressive silence while the new
president, seated in the East room, and
the international amenities of his office.

Probably the most formal ceremony in
which Mr. Wilson ever has participated
was the presentation to the president
of the diplomatic corps accredited to Washington
by the civilized nations of the globe. In a semi-
circle of brilliant colors, their uniforms
glided proudly with the insignia of their
rank, 146 foreign representatives stood
in impressive silence while the new
president, seated in the East room, and
the international amenities of his office.

Probably the most formal ceremony in
which Mr. Wilson ever has participated
was the presentation to the president
of the diplomatic corps accredited to Washington
by the civilized nations of the globe. In a semi-
circle of brilliant colors, their uniforms
glided proudly with the insignia of their
rank, 146 foreign representatives stood
in impressive silence while the new
president, seated in the East room, and
the international amenities of his office.

Probably the most formal ceremony in
which Mr. Wilson ever has participated
was the presentation to the president
of the diplomatic corps accredited to Washington
by the civilized nations of the globe. In a semi-
circle of brilliant colors, their uniforms
glided proudly with the insignia of their
rank, 146 foreign representatives stood
in impressive silence while the new
president, seated in the East room, and
the international amenities of his office.

Probably the most formal ceremony in
which Mr. Wilson ever has participated
was the presentation to the president
of the diplomatic corps accredited to Washington
by the civilized nations of the globe. In a semi-
circle of brilliant colors, their uniforms
glided proudly with the insignia of their
rank, 146 foreign representatives stood
in impressive silence while the new
president, seated in the East room, and
the international amenities of his office.

Probably the most formal ceremony in
which Mr. Wilson ever has participated
was the presentation to the president
of the diplomatic corps accredited to Washington
by the civilized nations of the globe. In a semi-
circle of brilliant colors, their uniforms
glided proudly with the insignia of their
rank, 146 foreign representatives stood
in impressive silence while the new
president, seated in the East room, and
the international amenities of his office.

Probably the most formal ceremony in
which Mr. Wilson ever has participated
was the presentation to the president
of the diplomatic corps accredited to Washington
by the civilized nations of the globe. In a semi-
circle of brilliant colors, their uniforms
glided proudly with the insignia of their
rank, 146 foreign representatives stood
in impressive silence while the new
president, seated in the East room, and
the international amenities of his office.

Probably the most formal ceremony in
which Mr. Wilson ever has participated
was the presentation to the president
of the diplomatic corps accredited to Washington
by the civilized nations of the globe. In a semi-
circle of brilliant colors, their uniforms
glided proudly with the insignia of their
rank, 146 foreign representatives stood
in impressive silence while the new
president, seated in the East room, and
the international amenities of his office.

Probably the most formal ceremony in
which Mr. Wilson ever has participated
was the presentation to the president
of the diplomatic corps accredited to Washington
by the civilized nations of the globe. In a semi-
circle of brilliant colors, their uniforms
glided proudly with the insignia of their
rank, 146 foreign representatives stood
in impressive silence while the new
president, seated in the East room, and
the international amenities of his office.

Probably the most formal ceremony in
which Mr. Wilson ever has participated
was the presentation to the president
of the diplomatic corps accredited to Washington
by the civilized nations of the globe. In a semi-
circle of brilliant colors, their uniforms
glided proudly with the insignia of their
rank, 146 foreign representatives stood
in impressive silence while the new
president, seated in the East room, and
the international amenities of his office.

Probably the most formal ceremony in
which Mr. Wilson ever has participated
was the presentation to the president
of the diplomatic corps accredited to Washington
by the civilized nations of the globe. In a semi-
circle of brilliant colors, their uniforms
glided proudly with the insignia of their
rank, 146 foreign representatives stood
in impressive silence while the new
president, seated in the East room, and
the international amenities of his office.

Probably the most formal ceremony in
which Mr. Wilson ever has participated
was the presentation to the president
of the diplomatic corps accredited to Washington
by the civilized nations of the globe. In a semi-
circle of brilliant colors, their uniforms
glided proudly with the insignia of their
rank, 146 foreign representatives stood
in impressive silence while the new
president, seated in the East room, and
the international amenities of his office.

Probably the most formal ceremony in
which Mr. Wilson ever has participated
was the presentation to the president
of the diplomatic corps accredited to Washington
by the civilized nations of the globe. In a semi-
circle of brilliant colors, their uniforms
glided proudly with the insignia of their
rank, 146 foreign representatives stood
in impressive silence while the new
president, seated in the East room, and
the international amenities of his office.

Probably the most formal ceremony in
which Mr. Wilson ever has participated
was the presentation to the president
of the diplomatic corps accredited to Washington
by the civilized nations of the globe. In a semi-
circle of brilliant colors, their uniforms
glided proudly with the insignia of their
rank, 146 foreign representatives stood
in impressive silence while the new
president, seated in the East room, and
the international amenities of his office.

Probably the most formal ceremony in
which Mr. Wilson ever has participated
was the presentation to the president
of the diplomatic corps accredited to Washington
by the civilized nations of the globe. In a semi-
circle of brilliant colors, their uniforms
glided proudly with the insignia of their
rank, 146 foreign representatives stood
in impressive silence while the new
president, seated in the East room, and
the international amenities of his office.

Probably the most formal ceremony in
which Mr. Wilson ever has participated
was the presentation to the president
of the diplomatic corps accredited to Washington
by the civilized nations of the globe. In a semi-
circle of brilliant colors, their uniforms
glided proudly with the insignia of their
rank, 146 foreign representatives stood
in impressive silence while the new
president, seated in the East room, and
the international amenities of his office.

Probably the most formal ceremony in
which Mr. Wilson ever has participated
was the presentation to the president
of the diplomatic corps accredited to Washington
by the civilized nations of the globe. In a semi-
circle of brilliant colors, their uniforms
glided proudly with the insignia of their
rank, 146 foreign representatives stood
in impressive silence while the new
president, seated in the East room, and
the international amenities of his office.

Probably the most formal ceremony in
which Mr. Wilson ever has participated
was the presentation to the president
of the diplomatic corps accredited to Washington
by the civilized nations of the globe. In a semi-
circle of brilliant colors, their uniforms
glided proudly with the insignia of their
rank, 146 foreign representatives stood
in impressive silence while the new
president, seated in the East room, and
the international amenities of his office.

Probably the most formal ceremony in
which Mr. Wilson ever has participated
was the presentation to the president
of the diplomatic corps accredited to Washington
by the civilized nations of the globe. In a semi-
circle of brilliant colors, their uniforms
glided proudly with the insignia of their
rank, 146 foreign representatives stood
in impressive silence while the new
president, seated in the East room, and
the international amenities of his office.

Probably the most formal ceremony in
which Mr. Wilson ever has participated
was the presentation to the president
of the diplomatic corps accredited to Washington
by the civilized nations of the globe. In a semi-
circle of brilliant colors, their uniforms
glided proudly with the insignia of their
rank, 146 foreign representatives stood
in impressive silence while the new
president, seated in the East room, and
the international amenities of his office.

Probably the most formal ceremony in
which Mr. Wilson ever has participated
was the presentation to the president
of the diplomatic corps accredited to Washington
by the civilized nations of the globe. In a semi-
circle of brilliant colors, their uniforms
glided proudly with the insignia of their
rank, 146 foreign representatives stood
in impressive silence while the new
president, seated in the East room, and
the international amenities of his office.

Probably the most formal ceremony in
which Mr. Wilson ever has participated
was the presentation to the president
of the diplomatic corps accredited to Washington
by the civilized nations of the globe. In a semi-
circle of brilliant colors, their uniforms
glided proudly with the insignia of their
rank, 146 foreign representatives stood
in impressive silence while the new
president, seated in the East room, and
the international amenities of his office.

Probably the most formal ceremony in
which Mr. Wilson ever has participated
was the presentation to the president
of the diplomatic corps accredited to Washington
by the civilized nations of the globe. In a semi-
circle of brilliant colors, their uniforms
glided proudly with the insignia of their
rank, 146 foreign representatives stood
in impressive silence while the new
president, seated in the East room, and
the international amenities of his office.

Probably the most formal ceremony in
which Mr. Wilson ever has participated
was the presentation to the president
of the diplomatic corps accredited to Washington
by the civilized nations of the globe. In a semi-
circle of brilliant colors, their uniforms
glided proudly with the insignia of their
rank, 146 foreign representatives stood
in impressive silence while the new
president, seated in the East room, and
the international amenities of his office.

Probably the most formal ceremony in
which Mr. Wilson ever has participated
was the presentation to the president
of the diplomatic corps accredited to Washington
by the civilized nations of the globe. In a semi-
circle of brilliant colors, their uniforms
glided proudly with the insignia of their
rank, 146 foreign representatives stood
in impressive silence while the new
president, seated in the East room, and
the international amenities of his office.

Probably the most formal ceremony in
which Mr. Wilson ever has participated
was the presentation to the president
of the diplomatic corps accredited to Washington
by the civilized nations of the globe. In a semi-
circle of brilliant colors, their uniforms
glided proudly with the insignia of their
rank, 146 foreign representatives stood
in impressive silence while the new
president, seated in the East room, and
the international amenities of his office.

Probably the most formal ceremony in
which Mr. Wilson ever has participated
was the presentation to the president
of the diplomatic corps accredited to Washington
by the civilized nations of the globe. In a semi-
circle of brilliant colors, their uniforms
glided proudly with the insignia of their
rank, 146 foreign representatives stood
in impressive silence while the new
president, seated in the East room, and
the international amenities of his office.

Probably the most formal ceremony in
which Mr. Wilson ever has participated
was the presentation to the president
of the diplomatic corps accredited to Washington
by the civilized nations of the globe. In a semi-
circle of brilliant colors, their uniforms
glided proudly with the insignia of their
rank, 146 foreign representatives stood
in impressive silence while the new
president, seated in the East room, and
the international amenities of his office.

SPRING OPENING
AT Z. C. M. I.
A Surprisingly Beautiful Display of New Spring Models.

The breath of spring is here, presenting light and dale. How refreshing it is after the cold and storms of winter!
With the first ozone of spring come the delightful millinery creations, their brightness, their freshness, their varied colors all heralding the new season so long anticipated. They bring pleasure and satisfaction to the woman who loves beautiful headwear. And what woman does not?

Yesterday was a delightful day to be sure for spring opening. One that the ladies of Salt Lake most certainly took advantage of. Z. C. M. I. was brilliant throughout the day. A bevy of interested ladies moving hither and thither. Here one would be enraptured in a chic little creation of black milan, ornamented with antique gold ostrich; another would be attracted by a hat shape, surmounted with a sheaf trimming of roses, wheat, thistles and foliage, while yet another was enthusiastic over a hemp effect, trimmed with garlands of heather and ribbon.

Z. C. M. I.'s suit and cloak section was also resplendent with the very latest fabrics and most desirable of the newest style models of the season. Suits in plain tailored, away, Balkan and Russian blouse effects, all the latest season's colors.

In the South Temple street window a Balkan blouse effect in rich, new blue silk Aeolian with collar in Bulgarian colors attracted considerable attention. A handsome gown that created considerable comment was a tan crepe charmeuse with porcelain blue velvet and silk embroidered outline, having an old gold and blue braid sash ornamented at the end with an old gold motif. The dress has a gentle sweep and the draping is simply exquisite. From the blue sash down the skirt the most graceful lines, the skirt is slashed to the ankle in front, showing the very latest effect.

The latest styles in three-quarter and full length coats are also shown in great profusion.

Z. C. M. I.'s spring display is well worth a visit. The recent improvements to the store making the general appearance pleasing and attractive and facilitating quick and prompt attention to customers.

WILL WITHDRAW
STOCK TAX BILL
Governor Sulzer of New York Brings Joy to Hearts of Exchange Operators.

ALBANY, N. Y., March 10.—Governor Sulzer announced today that he will double the state tax on transfers of stock to be withdrawn. The measure was recommended by the governor's committee of equity, which represents the state's revenues. It was bitterly opposed by Wall Street.

The present tax is $2 on each 100 shares of stock transferred. Governor Sulzer issued a statement outlining his attitude in regard to the proposed tax.
After careful consideration, he said, "I have decided that the bill goes too far, placing too great a burden of taxation on a single issue. The committee will recommend that its enactment may do more harm than good, and we prefer not to risk any injury to the legiti-mate business of our state or divert the revenue to other uses. We need more revenue, but we will get it without menacing any business."

NEW YORK, March 10.—Governor Sulzer's intention to withdraw the $